

Jennifer Bartlett-Phelps

Author • Speaker • Artist

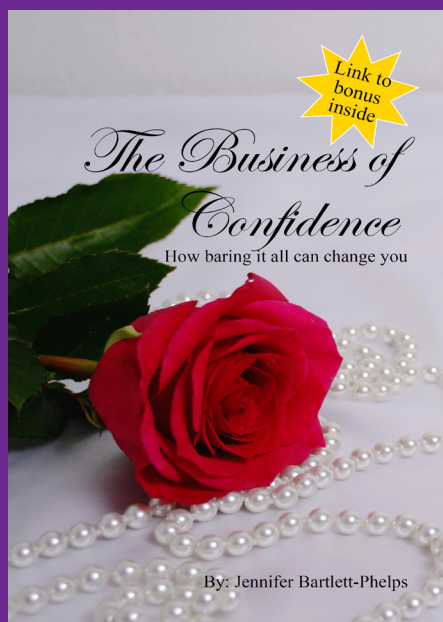

Available speaking topics:

Confidence: Finding yourself through vulnerability

Bullshit! The hindrance to authenticity

As an entrepreneur who works primarily with women, Jennifer is very familiar with the struggle for confidence. Sometimes elusive, confidence is the core of who we are and what we can achieve. In her book “The Business of Confidence” Jennifer takes the reader on her personal journey through failure, vulnerability and success. She addresses the roles confidence, and a lack of it, plays in both her personal and professional life, and how allowing herself to be vulnerable changed her. Jennifer aims to inspire others to find their own path to self acceptance and confidence in themselves.

Jennifer is the owner of Alter Ego Imaging, a photography studio that specializes in boudoir portraiture. Jennifer strives to help her clients re-connect with their sexuality and sense of self-confidence. She has a BFA in Visual Communications and Photography from Herron School of Art, Indiana University. Her love of art has shaped much of her adult life. She loves connecting with people and considers herself to be a perpetual optimist.

Reach Jennifer at 317-531-2011/
info@AlterEgoImaging.com